International Youth Work Camp 2018

Come together.

The international workcamp in Sandbostel is a colorful get-together for people aged between 16 and 22 years.

„Work“ is about doing something together. To tackle. Creating something and making a difference. Youngster, from up to eight nations, live and work together in Oese and Sandbostel for two weeks. (www.stiftung-lager-sandbostel.de)

These year we offer different workshops; among other things there will take place an archaeological dig of a no longer existing barrack, its foundation and floor plate. This area will be excavated under expert guidance and integrated into the memorial site. In addition, the attempts will be made to identify, with search excavations, hitherto unknown locations of the housing barracks of the former POW and concentration camp Stalag-XB Sandbostel, and of a road of the postwar period.

In workshops and forums we want to go beyond the digging on the historical POW in Sandbostel: under the motto „show yourself“ we will use the opportunity to discuss about current social and political issues, and deal with our responsibility and mission in a Europe for all.

Have fun.

Camp feeling for almost two weeks! Camp stands for a happy togetherness, encounters, a lot of time for sports and fun, music and camp fires, and for traveling together On the North Sea, to Helgoland, to Hamburg and Bremen, or with the canoes on the Oste river. All of it, international and across borders. Without limits. People from everywhere. In the middle of summer.

All together.

Together things will work. Definitely. We see the International Youth Work Camp in Sandbostel as a collective sign of peace. Against forgetting. Against the right-wing. And for reconciliation. We oppose right-wing extremism and advocate tolerance, civil courage and democratic values. We bring our culture, our history and our faith into play. We want to discover and understand history. On the spot. Face to face. In action. In Sandbostel and beyond.

Now!
